Archaeological Institute of America

Department of Canada

1909-1910

The Archaeological Institute of America was founded in Boston in 1879 to promote and direct archaeological research, to stimulate the love of art and letters, and to contribute to the higher culture of the country. It was incorporated by Act of Congress in 1906. It has under its supervision the American Schools in Athens, Rome, and Palestine, the School of American Archaeology, and also a department of mediaeval and renaissance art. It is composed of twenty-eight Affiliated Societies, with a total membership of nearly 3000, located in leading centres of culture throughout the United States and Canada.

The Department of Canada was organized in the fall of 1908, and was formally received into the Institute at the Meeting of the Council held in Toronto, December 28–31, 1908. Societies have already been formed in Kingston, Montreal, Ottawa, Toronto, and Winnipeg, and branches are being organized in Halifax, Hamilton, Quebec, St. John, and Vancouver. The total membership already numbers over fifty life members and three hundred annual members. Annual Meetings of the Societies are held usually in November for the election of officers and other business, and a series of illustrated lectures by eminent scholars sent out by the Institute is provided during the year. The Canadian Council has supervision over matters pertaining to this Department. The Executive Committee respectfully extends to you an invitation to become a member of the Affiliated Society located in your city, and it is particularly desired that we may have the pleasure of presenting your name at the next Regular Meeting.
